

A WEBINAR ON
Transforming Asia Pacific with Pope Leo's
*Magnifica Humanitas

Magnifica Humanitas prophetically draws attention to a Culture of Power which prioritises the geopolitical and economic interests of a powerful few. They cannot be allowed to predominate over human rights and dignity.

Fr Cedric Pakash

The Prophetic Call of a 'Civilisation of Love' to Choose Peace, Justice and Dialogue in Asia

- Fr Cedric Prakash, SJ, Ahmedabad, India. A Jesuit with studies in Economics and Politics, he founded 'Prashant', the Jesuit centre for human rights, justice and peace. As a visiting lecturer, speaker and trainer, he advocates for the excluded and exploited. The reality of the Muslims in Gujarat troubles him.

Sr Dr Susan Connelly

The Leadership of Women in Shaping a Civilisation of Love

-Sr Dr Susan Connelly, SOSJ, Sydney, Australia. Now in a Josephite leadership position, Susan worked for decades in Timor-Leste and is much concerned about the West Papuans. Involved with justice through articles and talks, her PhD applied René Girard's thought to Australia's relationship to Timor.

Rev James Baghwan

Interpreting Pope Leo's
Civilisation of Love through a Pacific lens

- Rev James Bhagwan, Suva, Fiji. As General Secretary, Pacific Conference of Churches, he works with Oceania's 35 member churches and 11 national councils of churches. His roots traced to labourers brought to Fiji by the British, he is committed to leading on social justice, climate change and gender issues.
